

Understanding attitudes to research in Stage 1 P:DP students (2)

This survey concludes the research project I've been doing into Stage 1 students' understandings of research. This is for a PGCert in Academic Practice qualification I'm doing, with the aim of improving my teaching practice. Responses are anonymous and will not effect your grading. That said, you might find it useful to include any reflections you make here in your unit 2 portfolio submission to show your own thinking around research.

By completing this survey you are consenting for your anonymous answers to be used for this academic study. More information is in the information sheet attached to my email.

Thank you very much for taking the time to fill this out honestly. It will help inform stage 1 next year, as well as tailor my teaching for you in Stage 2.

This survey will close on Thursday 11th January.

* Required

1. Did you go on your own research trip as part of Unit 2? *

Yes

No

2. If yes, where did you go? *

3. During unit 2, you were taken on three research trips: to the Warburg Collection, the National Gallery and Bethnal Green Nature Reserve. You also had the opportunity to go on your own research trip.

Did you find any of these to be useful for what you made for your Unit 2 'Experiments in Co-creation' project? *

- Yes
- Maybe
- No

4. If yes or maybe: which specific research trip(s) were useful for your practice and why?

5. If no: why not?

6. As part of Unit 2, you were taken to a range of different types of site where research could take place. How likely are you like to visit the following in the future, for your own research purposes? *

	Very likely	Somewhat likely	Somewhat unlikely	Very unlikely
An archive, like the Warburg Collection	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A nature reserve, like Bethnal Green Nature Reserve	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
An art gallery like the National Gallery	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

7. Has your attitude towards research changed over the course of the unit? *

Yes

No

8. If you'd like to say anything else, there's space for that here:
